

Late review on last exploration. on 9.14.

Haven't showered myself in the ~~rain~~ rain like this for years. At least by my own will. At first we still ~~thought~~ tried to fight the rain. Dressed with rain coat. But we then gave up. and just soaked in rain:

tried to hold some water from the soaking wet tree. (Like we do in shower).

Car Tong made himself one paper board hat? Looks like the old time rain hat.

This is already our first circle of the park. We are all soaking wet. To be honest. is that I didn't feel much of a nature.

~~even~~ Even the smell of raining doesn't even satisfy me.

The rain had no smell of mud or any other dead organic smell. like rotten tree and leaves. Which was very disappointing.

No good smell

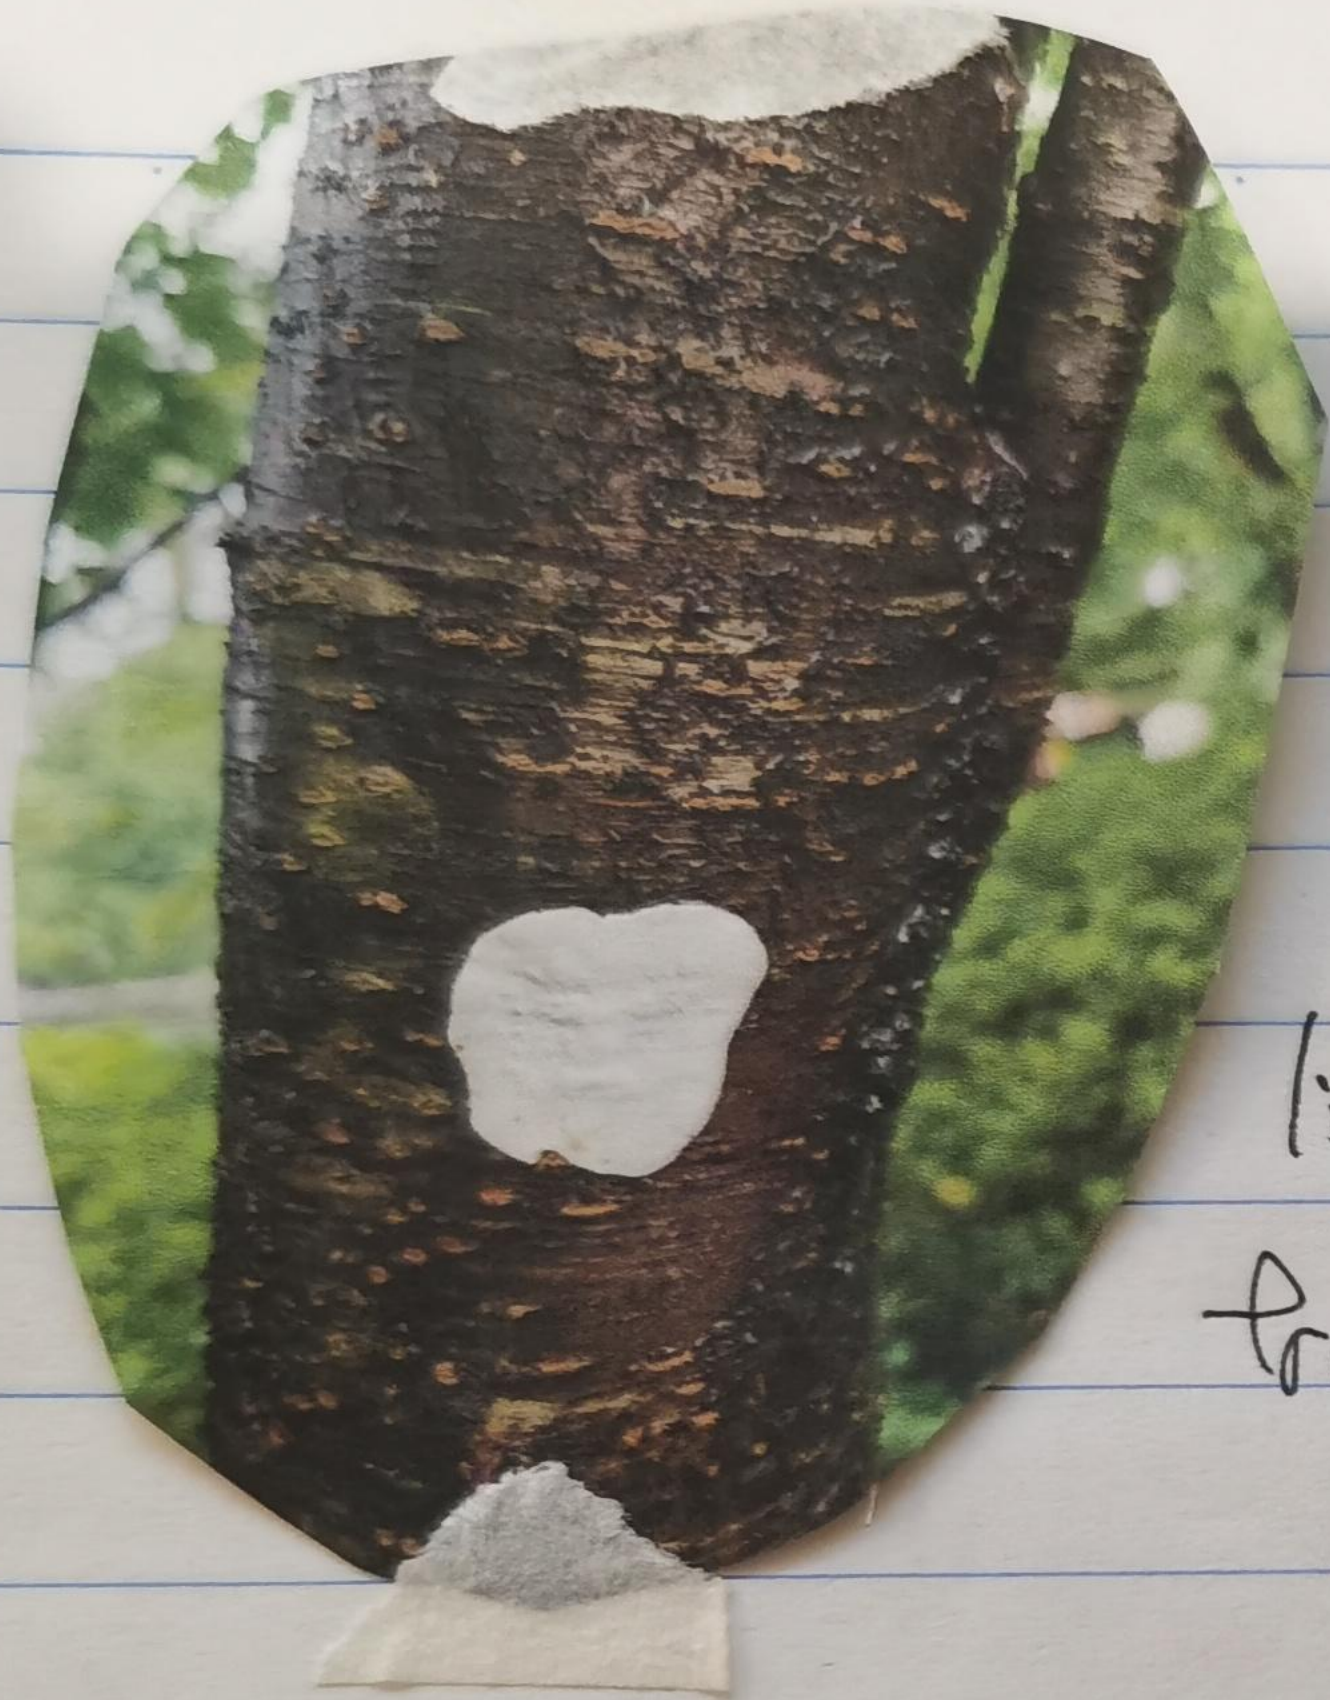

Even though I did said, not to be too harsh on the urban natures. But that explo. in.

Luxun Park, is a bit of a. disappointment. Couldn't feel, smell, ~~touch~~, any true sign of nature. Except for touching the greens. Feel their patterns and special physical parts.

And of course. soaked in the rain, feeling the water dripping and falling on and from you.

Felt the patterns and lines and the trenches
on the ~~trunk~~ trunks.

Sticky glue.

Find a way to
copy the patterns
like copying a tattoo
from the tree.

paper
board.